THE LOST FIFTH READER

By Henry Thompson

From Alberta's legislative chambers a member expresses fears for Communist influence in our educational system. Hon. Ivan Casey belittles the danger as of no consequence.

Experience recalls my own "Golden Rule Days". The yellow painted school situated on a wind swept prairie, in the centre of a four thousand acres block of Hudson's Bay land. The site was the most central point for the farms that fringed this reserve from all sides. No child had less than two and a half and most had four miles to walk, winter or summer.

Father did not allow us the use of horses in winter because the other children could not be spared horses from their regular use on the farm. Besides the trustee's would have been horified at the expense of building a shelter for animals. The annual fuel bill was debated and scrutinized with profound study before being passed for payment.

Education in winter storms and summer rains was often a grim, unpleasant necessity, forced upon us by our parents, accepted with little appreciation of its purpose and no understanding of the iron clad rule that allowed no excuse for non-attendance. Serious illness or the death of a member of your immediate family the only exceptions. Our teachers were always elderly gentlemen or spinster ladies. Their experience and wisdom completely wiped out any ten dency to shirk work in the class room. Strangely enough, I can recall but one instance of corporal punishment during those years at public school.

Very little play equipment was provided. Two rope swings and two hard stuffed rag balls, we made our own bats. The last couple of years we got a football.

The big boys organized rabbit hunts at noon hour, only the big boys were allowed to handle the weapons, sling shots, bows, arrows. The small boys and the in between kind, had to beat the bush, yelling like savages we were, to scare the rabbits to the neck formed by the large circle. Gradually we converged to the place where the big boys shot the rabbits. Our dogs feasted on the results of the hunt. What the girls did for pastime I do not know, but what self respecting small boy would play with sissy girls, when a rabbit hunt was on, even though several were your own sisters.

My release from school came at the age of fifteen, after a short illness and death of father. I went to work as a ferryman's assistant, then became the envy of my companions, who looked upon me as a man grown. Going back to their own parents to pester them with questions regards their own age and time to quit school.

Our teacher, Jerimiah Murphy, a two hundred and thirty pound Irishman, was a grand swimmer. Once each week he walked back home with us, three miles to the Saskatchewan river for a swim. Shortly after I quit school, he changed his habit for twice a week trips, always of course for a good swim. Before I realized what had happened, I had resumed my school studies.

My last day at school, I came home and standing on the shores of the old river had chucked my fifth reader far out in the river; Perhaps as a token to the gods of destiny for my release and early attainment of the status of manhood. Certainly it marked breaking the bondage of school dicipline. Only twice did Mr. Murphy ask about that book. I had answered it got wet and was no longer useful.

For a moment he gazed at me, in that silent humorous sort of way he had and somehow, I felt that he knew the whole truth and understood exactly what had been on my mind. It never occurred to me then, how he happened to have a new one ready in his haversack. Several years later, aftr my second years examinations at college, I received by mail from some anonymous person, a badly damaged fifth reader. I only realize now, just why it had been returned to me.

A great teacher, to whom I owe everything in education, his selfless sacrifice of time and patience. Quiet, unobstructive guidance when my need was greatest, this man without concious knowledge on my part, had created the desire for learning where all my other teachers had failed. The characters in the books we read became live persons, adventures a part of our own experiences.

An unheard of country teacher but a truly fine person, his devotion to his profession, sincerity, sense of humor and apparent complete enjoyment of life and everything contained in living had a lasting influence. If I have anything of tolerance, understanding and appreciation they have their foundations well laid in my teen age experience.

The Hon. Ivan Casey may believe that modern teaching methods have eliminated the character and ideals of a teacher to a minor role in modern education, but I am convinced our teachers should be our best and most loyal Canadian citizens.

Telephone Issue Widely Discussed

LAC LA BICHE — Everyone has heard by now some discussions about a telephone line to be built to Wandering River. Where will it run from? It could run from Athabasca or why could it not be built from our own hometown of Lac la Biche? It would be unfortunate circumstances for Lac la Biche if the Wandering River telephone system were linked up with Athbasca. It is then up to every person, every club, our local board of trade and every business to be sure and see to it that this telephone system be linked with Lac la Biche. This town needs the business from Wandering River, and now is the time to use every influence to keep it coming our way.

Wandering River is a prosperous district, especially in farming, alfalfa wheat, etc., and has a good bright outlook for the future, including lots of pulpwood.

Northern People Anticipate Highway

LAC LA BICHE—Many people of Northern Alberta are anxious to see the day a highway will be built joining Lac la Biche with McMurray.

One resident in McMurray is just as anxious, Mr. O'coffee owner of the Franklin Hotel. Mr. O'coffee has spent much time on this project.

The opening of the highway would mean opening of a great deal of new country. However, different sources of information have it that a lot of the country is only muskeg. To a certain extent this is true. Still there is a lot of good land too. This road would help the fishing and lumber industry. The pulpwood industry would get quite a boost, as the reports to date, are that pulpwood is in great demand and this expected to continue for the next five years. With a plant right in Edmonton, they will not be shipping pulpwood to the U.S. As there is considerable wood between Lac la Biche and McMurray, getting it out to the highway, if and when it comes, would be so much easier.

There is also the tar sands which could moved to surface roads. The tar sands plant on the Athabasca River is shut-down now and a new plant is in operatation at Bitumont, fifty miles downriver.

The salt plant which was in operation is shut-down This salt used to bear the name "McMurray Salt," but was made at Waterways. High freight rates and operation costs forced the closing up of this big plant. What a shame that such a fine industry had to cease operation.

There are any amounts of natural resources that could be made useful if this highway were possible. Tourists would move in to see our north country, which would mean great revenue.

It is hoped that everyone will put whatever ideas, to plan and see nothing is impossible, and where ther's a will there's a way, and to say the least—nothing can be developed without roads!

On May 24th, 1844, Samuel Morse sent the world's first telegram from Washington to Baltimore.

CASLAN NEWS NOTES

Mr. John Sawka and J. Miklebust motored to Edmonton last week and were stranded near Newbrook on the way home. They arrived home on the following Sunday train.

Miss Iva Meyer returned to Edmonton where she is employed, after spending the past week with her parents.

Miss Ann Hoffman closed school the first of last week on account of the drifted roads and went to her parent's home at Camrose where she will spend the Easter holidays.

Mr. A. Gordey and Bill returned home on Friday.

Mr. John Sawka went to Newbrook, planning to bring home his car after being stranded there.

Mr. Bill Cherniwchan, George Cherniwchan and Alex Gordey went to Boyle, former for business.

Lions Club Hold Banquet Tuesday

Lac la Biche Lions' banquet will be held at the usual place on Tuesday, March 27 at 6:30 p.m. at the McQuitty residence.

Mr. Lavigne, pulpwood buyer, is also going in the lumber business.

All the Hylo students have gone back home again by train, but the van is still here. Roads are blocked to Hylo.

Seems as though it's sure dangerous parking these days. The classy-looking Pontiac got bashed. Either someone was backing up or bumped it head-on. Needless to watch where you park your car. Nicky isn't feeling so good about it.

Our local dry cleaning plant must be given a bit of a boost too, of course. Known for many miles around, Vince Varze came from Italy in 1921, to Hylo, Alta. Resided there till 1944; went to Edmonton to work as a tailor tll 1945. On returning here he opened a little shop. Finding business warranted larger premises, an addition was made but that, too, was filled to capacity with numerous fittings, cleaning and things in connection with general dry cleaning.

Vince was doing very well in his little shop, but had ideas for much bigger things. So his brother, Tony and he went into partnership in a modern plant, which this one is that just opened up Dec. 16, 1950. Tony, his brother, is his partner. Tony used to have a drug store (since 1941) and was in business until 1950, with sidelines — buying seed throughout the districts such as Plamondon, Venice, Hylo, Craigend, Grassland, Kikino, Owl River and Wandering River.

The boys are doing well, and business is good, but they run into obstacles and drawbacks, as is expected in all businesses. To begin with, their overhead is so high. Before a nickel of profit can be be realized to operate the plant, and pay certain kinds of skilled help, it costs $35.00 per day to operate. So really, business has to be good or it would not be long before the doors would be closed. one must realize the convenience to all their customers. If you can't be an asset to your community, don't be a liability. Don't forget it's not the asset—it's the public service that counts. So let's wish the boys luck and co-operate with them in every way.

The big blizzard seems to have blown itself out. Mild weather is here again. Let's hope it stays. Although March came in like a lamb, it will more than likely go out the reverse. March is noted for its three kinds of traverse—wheels, sleighs, boats.

The snow plow came through from Edmonton, much to the pleasure of many car owners, who will be able to go out of town over the holidays.

Mr. Ford Scott finally got through to Lac la Biche with his truckload of perishables. And you can be sure he isn't anxious for another blizzard, as this was a costly one to him.

With all these mountainous snow banks, we will probably need boats and hip-waders before it all clears up. Nevertheless, I still think we will get another snow storm. The main topic of discussion everywhere is what?—Weather of course.

Daily bus is running again and nice to see, it will no doubt be off the road again, when the spring thaws come, but this time it will be expected.

TOWN GOSSIP

Imperial Bank manager, Lac la Biche, Mr. McCaskill, has some startling news for us. Sometimes in August or early September. Could it be! he has big ideas and will be jumping off the deep end? Give this some serious thinking, or have you?

Bunch of the boys are celebrating. What's the occasion, boys?

The Pontiac is sitting facing south. Must be, because its going south on Saturday evening. We understand there is a dazzling blonde at the end of the lonesome journey. We would like more details, Nicky.

A few changes and re-arrangements at the Hudson's Bay store have been taking place, making it more convenient for customers serving themselves.

Mrs. N Stuparyk, Steve's mother at present is in hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Project for this spring with much enthusiasm is the new Wandering River high school being built on the old Wandering River school site. This building will accomodate five schools in this area, namely, Amesbury, Lyle Lake, Parent school, Sunview and Wandering River.

Bill Shulko made way to Edmonton through Blue Jay then on to Donatville, this is known as the old trail; this seems to be the only passible route at present.

On business in Lac la Biche, Mr. Pue, owner of the Herald was stranded here, being able to leave on the Tuesday's train, forcing him to leave his car so we expect him back in the vicinity before too long.

Moved into their new residence are Mr and Mrs. Aabak and daughter, in Paul Gabriel's house, this is on the Craigend highway. Mr. Cormick has taken up residence in the residence next to the old Massey-Harris.

Dr. Cadzow is one of our very efficient doctors that this community boasts. He was born in Vegreville, 1917, entered General hospital for two years before coming here; this was nine years ago, when he came to practice medicine. Has just recently completed a lovely, modern new home near the hospital, also recently completed a new doctor's office where both Drs. Brinsmead and Cadzow interview their patients. This was greatly needed this office and is an asset to our community.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Cadzow have visitors over the Easter holidays. Could be more news available next week.

Hospitalized

In hospital during the week: Mrs. Earl Kanzig, Grassland; Beverely Pearen, Mile 137; Mrs. Timothy Murray, Boyle; Nick Luc, Plamondon; Mrs. Gerald Rachaeleau, McRae; Mrs. Ward Austin, Briereville; Steve Leach, Owl River; Mrs. Art Schirrmacher, Big Bay. Baby Anne Berland, Big Bay; Mrs. Fred Pruden, Lac la Biche; Mrs. Philip Plamondon, Plamondon; Mrs. Marie Lamoureux, Lac la Biche; Mrs. John Schaub, Plamondon; Baby Lucille Leach, Owl River; John Willey, Mile 137; Stanley Ballard, Atmore; Baby Jeanne Woods, Saddle Lake; Mrs. Josephine Tardif, Lac la Biche; George Laboucane, Owl River.

Red Opposition To German Defence

Time and again, the colossus of Soviet Russia has gobbled up its smaller neighbors. Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Poland, Eastern Germany, The Balkans, Manchuria and North Korea are now under Communist domination. Late in the Soviet program of acquisition of other countries, the United States drew what is known as the "Truman line" around Russia and its satellites with the firm resolve to contain Communism within that line.

The line traversed the 38th parallel in Korea, which was the boundary between North and South Korea. Not satisfied with containment here, Communist armies invaded South Korea when the United Nations were unprepared to back up their resolve to withstand aggression.

The same Truman line runs through Germany, on the boundaries separating East and West Germany, occupied respectively by Russian and Western armies.

Uncle Sam is desperately anxious to rearm Germany before the Russian armies invade the west. As indicated in our cartoon, the old fellow isn't having a very happy time in the face of both German and Russian opposition. .

Red Cross Campaign Still Short of Goal

Due to the severe cold weather in March, coupled with blizzards and blocked roads, the Alberta Red Cross campaign is still far from the mark.

This is unfortunate, because for local needs alone the Red Cross was never in greater needs of funds. Scores of crippled children are dependent on YOU to give, so that they can find medical care required at the new Children's Hospital at Calgary. Truly the "Work of Mercy Never Ends."

If the Red Cross in Alberta is to keep up its vital program of mercy in this province, those who have not yet made their contribution to the 1951 campaign must do so at once. Can you be counted on to contribute? The Red Cross needs every cent they can get!

The Ostrich Trick

The poor, dumb ostrich, we understand, isn't really guilty of hiding its head in the sand when danger threatens. But our readers know what we mean when we say the government of Alberta is playing the ostrich trick in at least one phase of the liquor question.

Pick up any eastern publication such as Life, Liberty or scores of others and you will find the advertising pages half filled with colorful liquor advertising. The government here does nothing to ban the sale of outside publications containing liquor advertising. But as a sop to the Temperance Forces here they have effectively banned the advertising of alcoholic beverages in publications printed in Alberta.

This is an injustice to printers and publishers in this province. It is unjust to the Temperances Forces because by not seeing liquor advertising in local papers the advocates of prohibition are hood-winked into thinking the government liquor stores are doing an ineffective sales job.

The Social Credit party should either ban the sale of outside publications carrying liquor advertising or extend the same privileges to Alberta publishers of selling papers containing such advertising copy.

The Helicopter Comes of Age

By EDWARD H. SIMS

The aircraft which might revolutionize air travel is already being produced, and the first models are selling for less than $5,000. With mass production methods the craft might sell as low as $1,500 — putting it within the reach of millions of Americans.

The new plane is a twin-jet helicopter. From that description the average man or woman could conclude the new machine is both fast and complicated. But on the contrary, it is neither fast, nor complicated. The hitch is that the jet engines are little more than toys, weighing about 11 pounds each.

Since the plane is a helicopter, there is no forward propeller, only an overhead one, and on the tips of this propeller are attached the two small jet engines. The rotary motion of the blades is enough to draw the fuel from a tank below, up through a gas line inside the metal propeller, feeding out to each engine.

One of the test pilots flying these jets, Al Bridgford, says passengers are safe even if the engines quit. From 100 or 1,000 feet, these craft will settle to earth at a safe speed, even with no power. They carry two passengers, fly 80 miles an hour and have a range of 50 miles, which seems to be the biggest limitation at present.

The controls are simple enough for any amateur, and there are only two, one controlling direction, the other climb. The little plane weighs only about 400 pounds. Its small engines can be changed in a few minutes with a screwdriver! Sounds unbelievable, but they're flying today, known as the Hiller Hornet.

Bridgford, in an informative interview, laughed at the thought of danger when flying these 'copters. "I can land on a roof top or in a big yard," he said. "There's nothing to it." And to prove what he says, Bridgford and other pilots will fly the little planes into the U.S. capital several weeks hence and demonstrate them on Washington's Mail.

The great opportunity for such a plane is the chance it can be built ,by mass production methods, for as little as automobiles. The owner could hop over a city to the residential sections on the other side with no traffic problems at all. He could land in the front yard and take of from it. In the country, it would eliminate the problem of roads. A clearing in the field would be plenty of space for this little craft. A farmer could hop all over his land, at 80 miles an hour, over streams and hills and without the fear of crashing.

And he can play Buck Rogers, too!

Two Wrongs and No Rights!

(From Camrose Canadian)

Like thousands of wheat farmers in Western Canada, we are disappointed in the unfortunate climax of the British wheat deal. We feel that the traditional British spirit of fair play has taken a terrific beating at the hands of the Attlee administration. This is bound to show itself in future deliberations between Britain and Canada.

At the same time, did Canada do the proper thing by applying the dumping duty charge to the influx of British cars? The Canadian auto industry has been one of the most highly protected industrial organizations in the country. Thus do we see two wrongs and no rights!

What Next?

In the days of the little Red School House, a small district school board investment of $300 was sufficient to equip the local school system with the necessities of learning the three R's. Children got lots of physical exercise walking back and forth to school.

Then, along came Mr. Aberhart with the idea that the kids were getting too much exercise and recommended the purchase of a $3,000 bus to ride the children to the town school.

Now someone has discovered that school children don't get enough exercise that way so they're recommending gymnasiums and swimming pools, costing in the neighborhood of $300,000.

The next thing is for some bright eyed educationist or politician to figure out a $3,000,000 rest home for school children who get too much exercise in the gymnasium.

The Bible Says:

Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?—Galatians, IV: 21.

The United States, with a goal in mind of fortifying Western Germany is bitterly opposed by Soviet Russia. Not only does Red Russia oppose the re-armament of Germany but has been fairly successful in propaganda designed to discourage co-operation between Germany and the Western Powers. A serious upset to the whole plan would invite almost immediate invasion of Germany by Russian armies, of which there are over 2,000,000 men known to be in uniform.

PIN-HEADED JIM

Dear Sir—I really feel sorry for Big Jim. It sounds like he's one of those pin-headed aristocrats who never raised a family of his own for the simple reason no woman would ever have him. Seems queer some people live their whole lives minding other people's business and doing a mighty poor job of their own.

Surely the parents who lost their boy feel bad enough over his death without seeing such comments in the paper. I think we all do well if we mind our own families and leave other folks alone.

Dear Sir—You may not have noticed it, but your editorial on price control coincided with what Progress Conservative leader George Drew advocated in the House at Ottawa. WANTS RENT CONTROLS

Dear Sir—I see in your paper that there won't be any rent controls in Alberta after April 30. The federal government is dropping rent controls and the Alberta government won't carry on with them, although other provinces are going to do so. Dear Sir—War hysteria is rising in this country, and the fellow who suggested that we cage all the so-called Communists would have a hard time finding enough barb wire (especially with present metal restrictions.)

RELIGION OF LOVE

Dear Sir—Although men have often started wars over religion, that doesn't alter the fact that Christianity is a religion of justice and love.

Regardless of the fact that the Bible was selected from various sources, certain manuscripts being rejected as spurious, we know enough about Jesus from our present Bible to recognize that He was what His followers claimed Him to be—one who can bring man into living contact with God, and with God's character and purpose.

Record-Breaking Road Building Program Planned This Year by Provincial Gov't

Close to $20,000,000 will be spent on Alberta highways and bridges this year, according to the provincial budget introduced in the legislature by Premier Manning.

The actual total, $19,038,300 is an increase of approximately $6,000,000 over the 1950-51 appropriation. Of this total, the government proposes to spend $13,538,300 for the construction and improvement of main highways. This is $1,808,300 in excess of the amount provided for this purpose in last year's estimates.

TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY

Also included in the $19,000,000 total is $4,000,000 for the province's share of construction of the Trans-Canada Highway. As the work will be done on a 50-50 basis as between the province and dominion, the province will be reimbursed to the amount of $2,000,000.

Last year, the bulk of this national highway work was undertaken east of Calgary, in the Strathmore area, and it is anticipated that more work in the same region is planned this year.

The estimates also include large sums for maintenance of main and district highways and also of bridges.

Provision also is made for an outlay of $1,500,000 on new highway bridge construction this year .This vote is $500,000 more than in 1950.

The budget also contains $3,830,000 for assistance for roads in municipal and improvement districts, along with $600,000 for bridges.

For the provincial highway traffic board, the appropriation is $10,000. This is an increase of $7,000 on the expenditure side.

The provincial government also has announced that several more stretches of highway have been designated as provincial main highways.

These include: No. 11, Red Deer-Brazeau; No. 12, Rimbey-Compeer; No. 15, Edmonton-Chipman; No. 36, Hanna-Viking; No. 5, Lethbridge-Waterton; No. 9, Calgary-Alsask, and No. 2, Alberta-B.C. boundary to Carway.

A number of other stretches have been designated as secondary highways.

Alberta Wind Pranks Upset B.C. Court

Alberta wind is up to its prankish travelling again. Not so long ago it carried Alberta forest fire smoke as far away as England. Now it's Nanaimo, B.C. it's upsetting by blowing cold breath in a court room.

"This is the Supreme Court of British Columbia and I object to the Alberta wind that is coming through the window," said Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, presiding at the Spring Assizes there after being assured the windows were shut tight and not wide open.

The unusually cold March weather was making the jurors shiver and caused his lordship to declare that if it got too cold he would break the rules of court procedure and allow them to wear their hats. No juror took him up on this, but an electric heater on the bench worked overtime during the day's proceedings.

Calgary Stock Market Has Record Year

During the year 1950 the volume of business transacted on the Calgary Stock Exchange has broken all records by a substantial margin, the number of shares traded amounted to 62,998,118 for the value of $20,211,600. The previous largest turnover was in the year 1948, when 39,448,489 shares were handled on the Exchange for a value of $9,472,743.

Thirteen oil companies paid dividends during the year, the total distribution to shareholders amounting to $2,974,070, a slight decrease from the previous year's distribution.

The busiest month of the year on the Exchange was June when 11,576,828 shares traded and the quietest period was in March when 2,131,702 shares changed hands.

POWER OF GOD saved the life of J. Honore Robert, Lac la Biche. Mr. Robert exhibits appendix which were removed without an operation being performed. See story below.

Says Power of God Removed Appendix Without Operation

J. Honore Robert, a middle-aged Lac la Biche man, says he's alive today because the Power of God allowed him to remove his own appendix without an operation being performed.

Mr. Robert says he began to feel pain in his abdomen last February 13. The pain grew worse until February 15, when he sought relief in prayer.

He says he called upon the power of God to remove his appendix and was successful in his appeal.

Mr. Robert has his appendix preserved in a bottle of alcohol to prove his story.

No operation was performed upon him, and he has no scars on his body.

Cattle Exports In Canada High During Past Year

Canada exported 17,197 head of Holstein-Friesian cattle to twelve different countries during the past year. This figure represents 32 per cent of all animals transferred duirng the year, according to the annual report of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

A regulation providing that, after December 31, 1951, no bull could be registered whose dam had not completed a production record meeting the Record of Performance standards established by the Government of Canada, was approved at the annual meeting. It was also provided that a bull would not be eligible for registration unless the dam graded at least "Good Plus" for confirmation, except in the case where the dam had a record of 50 per cent above the R.O.P. requirements and had been graded at least "Good."

Home-Built Snowplane Proves Its Worth

LAC LA BICHE, March 20.—At the time of writing the roads in this district are still blocked as a result of the recent storm. The NAR train is running on schedule again but no trucks, cars or buses are able to get through even on the main highway.

Because of these prevailing conditions the snowplane of A. J. Seguin, operator of the power plant here, has had to make two mercy trips in order to bring patients to Lac la Biche.

The first, and really tough trip was made on Sunday, March 18, from Lac la Biche to Donatville, a distance of 42 miles.

The snowplane left here shortly after 9 in the morning and did not return until after 6 p.m. The trip was made to bring Mr. P. Gauthier to the hospital. He was suffering from a bad attack of appendicitis and the only way to get the news through was via the RCMP barracks at Lac la Biche, which was the only phone connection open all day on Sunday.

Const. Moar accompanied Mr. Seguin on the trip and trail had to be broken all the way. Many of the drifts were made up of soft unpacked snow and the plane time and again would sink into the drift and had to be dug out.

The return trip only took about half the time as the trip in to Donatville.

Immediately on arrival at St. Catherine's hospital Mr. Gauthier was operated on and is now doing nicely.

Again on Tuesday, March 20 a routine trip was made to Venice but on arrival there it was found that the baby of Mr. and Mrs. D. Rowland was sick and when the snowplane was seen at Venice request was made to have the baby taken to Lac la Biche for treatment, so for the second time the snowplane was pressed into service.

This snowplane was made here by Messrs. Sequin and Dobson, assisted by Herbie Sequin. It is powered by a Monasca airplane engine and it has proven a very successful enterprise.

It was really tested however during the last few days and now that there are vertually no roads in the district it is likely that it will have many more trips before the roads will be fit to travel over again.

LETTER TO LOUISA

Girl Makes Mistake In Being Pursuer In Love

DEAR LOUISA:—It was about a year ago that I met Johnny at a party.

I fell for him hard. At first he made all of the advances and then suddenly stopped everything. I asked him to explain, which he did by saying it was obvious the way I cared for him and that he did not want to get serious with any girl as he wasn't ready to get married. He'd come to see me when he wanted to.

When he enlisted in the Navy, he didn't tell me but said he was going away for a while. Naturally, I was hurt and feel that he is running away from me.

I can't get him off my mind. I go out with others but I don't enjoy myself. I got his address through friends but I know he doesn't believe in writing letters. I am dying to hear from him but do you think I should write to him first or will it be too much like chasing him?

GERMAINE.

Answer:

So many girls make the mistake of trying to be the pursuer instead of the pursued, and there is no surer way of driving off a suitor than to try to run him down or force his hand too soon. Your case is just such a one.

If you had controlled your feelings and not let him realize right away that you were just like a ripe plum—ready to fall in his lap if he gave you a glance — he would probably now be worried about the state of your affections rather than trying to run away from you.

If you feel that you must write to him, make it a nice friendly letter. Don't mention the fact that he ran away from you or upbraid him about it. Tell him the news and let him know that all the home girls are trying to help keep up the morale of the boys in service by writing to them. If you confine yourself to friendliness and cheerful news, you may get a reply.

Good luck,

LOUISA.

Red Cross Fund Drive Will Be Extended

GRASSLAND — Bad weather is holding up the Red Cross drive. Now that we have a branch of the Red Cross in Grassland, it is hoped that a substantial amount can be raised for this cause. The drive for funds will continue for the remainder of the month.

The worst storm of the winter hit the district on Thursday. Some school vans were unable to get through the drifts after school, and many students had to find shelter for the night in the village.

Mike Medwid returned from Edmonton Wednesday, driving a new Meteor. He was accompanied on the trip by D. S. Semeniuk.

We like to go visiting to see how other people produce textiles. A good many come to visit us, and we like this too. All main countries have textile industries, and people come from other countries in the western group to study our methods. The textile industry here in Canada is among the leaders in technical skill and effectiveness. And along with the U.S. it pays the highest wages for textile employment anywhere. In Canada the industry is the largest employer of manufacturing labor. Textiles also pay the largest manufacturing wage bill in this country. In these times, the size and technical ability of the industry are important features of Canada's strength.

AUTO SALES HERE SLUMP AS CREDIT CURBS TAKE EFFECT

A slump in auto sales hit Edmonton car dealers this week as new credit curbs went into effect across the country.

The last three days of last week, however, saw a strong upswing in auto sales as buyers took advantage of their last chance to get cars with a one-third down payment.

The new federal restrictions on credit buying aimed at fighting inflation—were announced Wednesday of last week and went into effect this Monday.

Under the new regulations, prospective motor car buyers have to pay 50 per cent down and spread payments over a 12-month period. They formerly had to pay only one-third down and could spread payments over 18 months.

During Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week some car lots were staying open until midnight and one city dealer was even offering free taxi service to his lot.

WILL HIT NEW CARS HARDEST

Car men think the new restrictions will hit new cars the hardest, because minimum down payment will run to about $1300.

"It will probably cause a swing to used cars because many people will no longer be able to afford the stiff price required for the first payment,' a South Side dealer said.

If this happens then used car prices may advance.

Credit men don't think the new restrictions will hurt trade greatly after the first shock of the new curbs wear off.

Although sales slumped this week, they expect them to come back soon.

Motor dealers feel the restrictions work unfairly on Western purchasers.

A car buyer here has to pay $300 more than a person in Toronto, because of freight rates, and this means that both down payments and monthly installments are higher in the West.

A report from Vancouver this week said that the B.C. Automobile Dealers' Association has asked Ottawa to ease credit buying regulations on autos in B.C. because of high freight rates.

FRANK PEDDIE, Toronto actor, plays one of the most amusing roles in Canadian radio as Mr. Colin Glencannon, chief engineer of the dirtiest steamer afloat, the S.S. Inchcliffe Castle. Program is entitled "The Exemplary Life of Mr. Colin Glencannon", and is heard over CBX Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m.

To Discontinue Rent Controls April 30

There will be no rent controls in Alberta after April 30, it was learned this week.

Federal government is lifting its control of rents across the country on that date. Many provinces are planning to carry on with rental controls, but the Alberta government will not step into the picture.

Sign of the government's decision not to step into the rental control field was given in the legislature this week when Premier Manning said a $25,000 appropriation set aside last year for a rent control bureau will not be used. He told the House there is no need for the appropriation and "none is foreseen and none is provided."
